Vasilios, also called Billy, graduated from the Maurice A. Deane School of Law at Hofstra University in May 2018. He began his legal career at the Second Department, Appellate Division, of the Supreme Court of New York as the Honorable Leonard B. Austin's Assistant Law Clerk. During his nearly three-year tenure as a clerk, Billy was exposed to a wide variety of practice areas through an appellate lens. Using this diverse experience, Billy then entered practice as an Associate primarily focused on defending corporate clients in civil litigation matters. Prior to joining Neufeld, O'Leary and Giusto, Billy was with two prominent New York City law firms where he specialized in litigation and alternative dispute resolution methods, such as mediation. As an Associate, Billy has practiced before the Supreme Court of the State of New York, the Southern District of New York, and various administrative courts across the country.

Prior to attending the Maurice A. Deane School of Law, Billy graduated from Fordham University. Billy is a Brooklyn native and lives there with his wife and two dogs. Raised by Greek parents, Billy is passionate about contributing to the Greek-American community. When not working, Billy enjoys fishing and watching or playing soccer. He is a die-hard Arsenal and AEK FC fan.
